Become a Concurrent Enrollment Instructor!

Concurrent enrollment opportunities are in high demand. Join us in offering this exciting opportunity to Nevada students.

The Jumpstart Concurrent Enrollment Program at the College of Southern Nevada (CSN) invites applications from qualified high school instructors to teach college level courses at their high schools. As adjunct faculty, instructors will have the opportunity to teach introductory general education courses, and support students in getting a "Jump Start" on their college degree. Approved instructors fully implement the college curriculum, and follow college policies, semester timelines, course rigor and the college's learning outcomes and student assessment.

Concurrent Enrollment Instructor Qualifications

The required qualifications to teach concurrent enrollment courses with CSN are a master's degree in their respective discipline OR a master's degree in a related field WITH 18 graduate credits in the field for which the instructor is interested in teaching. New instructors may apply once a year, starting in October and no later than February 01, to begin their teaching assignment in the upcoming academic year. Concurrent enrollment classes must have a minimum of ten (10)-student enrollment and a maximum enrollment of 35.

Application Process

New interested high school instructors are encouraged to submit their credentials to the Jumpstart Office. The respective discipline department will contact the high school applicant to review credentials and to schedule an interview. Interested Instructors will need to submit with their academic credentials the CSN Instructor Approval form. The Approval form can be found and downloaded at our website: www.csn/jumpstart. While the Concurrent Enrollment staff will provide administrative support, the final approval to teach with our program is determined by the College's academic department chair. The new instructor review process may take anywhere from two weeks to four weeks depending on the time of the year the credentials are submitted for review.

Stipend Paid

Jumpstart Instructors receive a stipend every 16-weeks for teaching an approved concurrent enrollment course at their high school. The stipend payment is $200 per course, per semester, paid by CSN as well as $220 per course, per semester, paid by CCSD.

The quality and academic rigor of the Jumpstart Concurrent Enrollment Program is dependent on the active participation of our department Chairs and Faculty Liaisons.

The College of Southern Nevada academic department Chairs and Faculty Liaisons provide essential curriculum oversight, mentorship, and support to the high school instructors. Our academic Chairs and Faculty Liaisons' primary responsibilities include:

Credential Approval

Classroom Observation

The college's assigned Faculty Liaison conducts an on-site high school visit to approved instructors every year starting with their first year of teaching. Observations are documented and shared with the instructor to provide an opportunity for constructive feedback and to ascertain the instructor is following the college's pedagogy, philosophy continue to improve classroom experience for the students.

Discipline-Specific Development and Administrative Orientation

Before a Jumpstart high school college-certified faculty can teach, they must attend the Jumpstart Annual Administrative Orientation as well as the annual Adjunct Conference and review and acknowledge department discipline-specific professional development workshops on course philosophy, course integrity, grading standards, course pedagogy, theory, policies, and procedures as related to their academic-related content area. Attendance is Mandatory.
